

NET GAIN OF 13 IS INDICATED

Reports of the Enumerators, With Jackson Township Out, Shows Increase of School Children.

OTHER REPORTS INCOMPLETE

Only Seven File Count of Soldiers and Sailors, Showing 169—County Educational Day.

Wednesday, June 11, will be county educational day, according to a decision reached at the monthly meeting of the county board of education yesterday afternoon. The place for the exercises and the principal speaker for the occasion were undetermined and were left for a committee to select. The date is subject to a change, but it is not probable that any will be made.

While here yesterday all of the trustees filed their reports of the enumeration of the school children of school age in their respective townships and a few of the trustees filed reports of the enumeration of the number of men who have been or are now members of the United States army or navy, or the national guard. Five township trustees only filed reports on the enumeration of soldiers, in addition to the reports on Carthage and Rushville. The county superintendent has in his possession the reports of all the school enumerators except that of O. M. Siler, trustee of Jackson township, who was unable to attend the meeting yesterday.

In the five townships, one city and a town, the reports show there are 169 who have served the government in some capacity or other. No veteran of the Mexican war is accounted for in any of the reports.

The city of Rushville, which report has already been published, leads with 101. Anderson township is next with 18 soldiers, 14 of which served in the civil war and 4 in the Spanish-American war. The town of Carthage follows with 16, two of the number being veterans of the late war with Spain and the remainder of the rebellion.

In Center township ten were enumerated. Of this number six are civil war veterans, two Spanish-American war veterans, one is a member of the navy and the other of the national guard. Noble and Orange townships each have eight. All of the Noble township soldiers are veterans of the rebellion and six in Orange are the same. The other two served in the late war. There are three civil war veterans in Washington township, and three in Ripley township outside of Carthage. There is one Spanish-American veteran and one member of the regular army here also.

With the Jackson township school enumeration still out, the comparison with last year indicates a net gain of thirteen children of school age. There was a loss of 8 in Carthage, 10 in Noble township, 10 in Washington, 19 in Ripley, 2 in Union, 10 in Posey, 13 in Orange. There was a gain of 5 in Walker, 20 in Rushville township outside the city, 5 in Center, and 55 in Rushville city. The enumeration in Anderson and Richland townships was the same this year as last.

Walker township has 332, of which 163 are white males and 169 are white females; Rushville township outside the city, 385, of which 195 are white males, 185 white females, 4 colored males and 1 colored female; Carthage, 192, of which 73 are white males, 79 white females, 26 colored males and 14 colored females; Noble, 238, divided with 105 white males, 126 white females, 4 colored males and 3 colored females; Anderson, 371, of which 204 are white

SPECIAL CAR FOR STATE ORATORICAL

Will Leave Here For Lebanon Friday at Ten O'clock—Large Crowd Going.

RUSHVILLE HOPES TO WIN

A special car has been secured for the trip to the high school oratorical contest at Lebanon Friday. A large crowd of high school students will make the trip and the special car will run through to Lebanon. The car will leave here Friday morning at ten o'clock. Students going to Lebanon will leave school at 9:25 o'clock. The day's work will be carried out by shortening the periods and beginning school at 8 o'clock, thereby closing the high school session at noon.

Rushville will be represented by Weldon Brann and as this is the last year that the local school will be represented in the state contest, he is hopeful of winning first place. The local school has always been well up among the winners and hopes to repeat this year. The annual track and field meet will be held Friday afternoon between the schools that are represented in the oratorical association. Profs. Scholl, Tyner, Smelser and Forry will attend the contest.

TWO MEN NAMED IN SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Clifford Cross Makes Sensational Charges Against Wife in Complaint Filed Today.

WANTS CUSTODY OF CHILDREN

Clifford Cross, through his attorney, John Kiplinger, filed suit for divorce today from Nellie Cross. The complaint alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and Mr. Cross makes sensational charges against his wife. The people involved live near Carthage. Thomas Silers and John Staley are the men named in the complaint as the ones that broke up Cross' home.

He charges that both these men visited at his home unknown to him and that he did not know of their visits until a few days before they separated. According to the complaint they separated April 11, 1913, after fifteen years of married life. Mr. Cross asks the custody of their two children. All are well known and a sensational trial is expected.

NEXT SUNDAY IS MOTHERS' DAY

Preparations Are Being Made For General Observance of Annual Event in Rushville.

FLORISTS EXPECT A RUSH

Churches and Sunday Schools Are Arranging Special Programs—Origin of the Day.

Mothers' day this year falls on the second Sunday in May, the eleventh, and present indications are that it will be more generally observed in Rushville this year than ever before. Local florists are preparing for the big rush on flowers. The churches and Sunday schools are preparing special programs for the event.

Although Mothers' day is scarcely five years old, it has come to be more generally observed than any other day set apart to a similar purpose. The day has come to be officially recognized by the governors of forty-nine states and territories and dependencies. In Indiana a proclamation will be issued by Governor Ralston calling upon all citizens to pay tribute to the loving remembrance of their mothers through some distinct act of kindness, visit or letter, or better still, to live this day as mother would have her son and daughter live it.

The exact origin of Mothers day appears never to have been recorded in recognized public prints. The only information that can be obtained concerning it in the public library is the very brief mention of its object, time, method of observance and the name of the founder contained in the World's almanac.

To Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia is attributed the origin of Mothers' day. It seems to have originated spontaneously all over the United States about 1908 and took the florists by surprise, for they had not heard of it.

Miss Jarvis claims credit for having conceived the idea in a desire to commemorate the anniversary of her mother's death. While laying some flowers on her mother's grave it occurred to her that it would be a beautiful tribute to all mothers, living as well as dead, if children on a given day would unite in wearing white flowers.

She set forth her ideas in a letter to a Philadelphia newspaper early in 1908 and the idea appealed. She had suggested the white carnation as the proper flower for Mothers' day and it was adopted.

"Its whiteness stands for purity; its form, beauty; its fragrance, love; its wide field of growth, charity; its lasting qualities, faithfulness—all a true mothers' attributes," she wrote.

The suggestion appealed so generally that the next year white carnations were soon exhausted, and then an attempt was made to have "white flowers for mothers' memory; bright flowers for mothers living."

Although Miss Jarvis did not approve of the suggestion it came to be adopted, but this year the florists have come to the front again with another suggestion:

"Bright flowers for mothers living; white flowers for mothers' memory."

The suggestion is presented by the florists to offset the action of the wholesalers, who have taken advantage of the day to shoot up the prices on carnations and white flowers.

The Pythian Sisters will meet tomorrow evening. Every member is urged to attend because of some work that is to be given.

TWO HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS LEAVE

Prof. O. D. Tyner, Principal, Accepts Place as Dean of the Academy at Wheaton College.

PROFESSOR OF MATHEMATICS

Miss Ida Ludlow, Instructor in History, Will Retire to Her Home in Fayette County.

The resignations of Prof. O. D. Tyner, principal of the high school, and Miss Ida Ludlow, instructor of history in the high school, were announced today by Prof. J. H. Scholl, superintendent of the public schools. Miss Ludlow will go to her home in Fayette county at the close of this term and Prof. Tyner has accepted a position as dean of the academy and acting professor in mathematics at Wheaton college, Wheaton, Ill.

Prof. Tyner's connections with the Rushville high school will come to a close at the end of this school year and he will take up his new work next fall. Wheaton college is near Chicago and has the distinction of being an institution with high ideals of Christian living and scholarship.

Wheaton college is not a sectarian school yet it is avowedly religious in its regulations and aims, and Prof. Tyner's friends here feel that his fine characteristics will be great aid to such a school. Its purpose is to educate young people in the sciences and arts; but the founders and present trustees believe that higher education loses much of its value without a controlling spirit of Christianity pervades the student body and the faculty. It is the sort of a position which Prof. Tyner has been seeking.

During the last year the work of Prof. Tyner as principal of the high school has been highly satisfactory to the school board, the superintendent and the school patrons. As a teacher he has a large sprinkling of sympathy and a great deal of interest in the individual welfare of each pupil, thereby obtaining good work, obedience and the universal respect of the student body.

That his character has been reflected in the moral tone of the high school is enough recommendation for his excellent qualities. The teachers and school officials have been very well pleased by the way he has settled all problems confronting him. Undoubtedly the community recognizes Prof. Tyner a splendid spirit of manhood, a kind that is always held in high esteem. To him much credit is due for decreasing the prevalent smoking habit among the high school boys by a honor system which has worked with increasingly good results.

Mr. Tyner was assured by the school board that he could retain the position here as long as he desired, yet the announcement that he is leaving to better his own circumstances will be received with rejoicing by those who have come in contact with him and who know how excellently well fitted he is to take up the new line of endeavor now opened to him.

In 1908, Prof. Tyner came to Rushville from Bloomington, Ind., where he was teaching mathematics in the high school. When he was first hired here he was promised advancement as soon as an opening made necessary any changes. After being here a half year, Mr. Tyner asked for a leave of absence in order to complete his studies in Indiana University. He was elected to fill the vacancy in principalship made vacant by Prof. M. R. McDaniel being called to Oak Park, Ill. Mr. Tyner was graduated from the Lagro high

TIME FOR BRIDGE LETTING CHANGED

Commissioners Gain a Week's Time by Putting Date Earlier—Purdue Scholarships Awarded.

VIEWERS ARE APPOINTED

The county commissioners adjourned late yesterday afternoon until Monday, May 19, when they will receive bids and award the contracts for the repair and rebuilding of a number of bridges in Rush county that were either washed out or considerably damaged by the flood. The date for the letting was originally set for the following Monday, the twenty-sixth, but when it was found that it would be possible under the law to make the necessary advertising and save a week's time, the date was changed.

The commissioners yesterday granted the two annual scholarships to J. Donald Sparks, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank M. Sparks of this city, and Fred Shelton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Shelton of Walker township. Mr. Shelton is trustee of the township. Franklin D. Miles and Oliver E. Rich were appointed viewers for the Robert B. Cook proposed road in Union township. Most of the time yesterday was devoted by the board to allowing claims for the month.

JURY IS TRYING FORBES ROAD CASE

Is Against Acceptance of Highway Alleging That it Was Not Built According to Specifications.

WILL TAKE SEVERAL DAYS

The case of James Forbes against the Board of Commissioners and Wilk and company, asking that the James Forbes et al., road not be accepted, started in the circuit court today. A jury was secured and the opening statements made by noon. The case will probably be completed late tomorrow. Forbes alleges that the road according to the plans and specifications and demands that the commissioners not accept the road as it stands today. Forbes was at one time superintendent of the road and part of the gravel used was obtained from a pit owned by him. One of the charges in the complaint is that the gravel used was not up to the standard. Most of the testimony this afternoon dealt with the details of the grading and attempting to show that the grade was not according to the plans and specifications.

DEALERS WILL HAVE TO USE CARE

New Weights and Measures Law Will Allow no More Graft by the Measure.

A POUND MUST BE A POUND

Act Has no Clear Provision as to the Sale of Berries by the Package.

The new law says that all liquid and dry measures shall be up to the standard, but there is no provision about berry boxes. Dealers who are handling the advance crop of strawberries do not contend that the boxes hold a quart of fruit, nor even a pint. They accept the berries in crate or case lots, pay for them at those rates and so does the ultimate consumer, regardless of the amount that the container holds.

Grocers when asked stated that some shipments of berries received last season were "skimps," but that the boxes tested this spring all carried the required amount of berries; in other words, a quart or a pint, as the case might be.

The new law is a stickler and until the universal use of standard and tested measures is adopted the consumer takes a chance in buying package goods. The object of the law is to compel the wholesaler and the retailer to give the consumer just what they pay for, and that is a standard measure. The retailer goes back to the wholesaler, who says he buys his fruit put up in boxes, which he honestly believes to contain either a pint or a quart. Thus, it would seem that those involved in sales of fruit put up in this way, can go back to the producer.

The weights and measures law may be found beginning on page 423, chapter 161 of the acts of the general assembly of 1913. There are several sections to the act and provisions covering every possible question that might be raised.

The new law says that county commissioners in any county of 50,000 or more inhabitants "shall" appoint a commissioner of weights and

The Methodical Housewife

One woman said to another the other day:

"Florence, how do you manage? You have prettier things in your house, better food on your table and wear better clothes than I, and yet I don't believe you spend nearly as much money as I do."

"I'll tell you how I do it. I spend just twenty minutes a day reading the newspapers. By looking through the advertisements each day I see just where and how I can get the smartest things and the best values for my money."

"By looking at the ads, I learn just who is selling what I need at the best price and then I go right after it. No matter what I want, food clothing, or entertainment, I find out where I can get it most quickly and conveniently. Twenty minutes a day saves me hundreds of dollars a year."

The advertisements in THE DAILY REPUBLICAN are signboards to many women. By the regular perusal of these ads the cost of living is reduced in many a home.

Obituary.

Mrs. George W. Guffin was born in Pennsylvania May 29, 1840, and was the daughter of Lansing and Nancy Bagley. Mrs. Guffin leaves a devoted husband, Mr. George W. Guffin, whom she married October 28, 1860, at her home on "Little Blue River" in Rush county. Seven children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Guffin, three dying in childhood; four living—Mr. Omer Guffin, of Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. Ed Wilson, of Indianapolis; Mrs. Morton Gray, of this county, and Mrs. Dora Woods, of Chicago. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Mary Redding, of Summitville, Ind., and two brothers, Mr. Henry Bagley, of Anderson, and Mr. Arthur Bagley of Muncie; three grand children and five great-grand children, have been deprived of a loving and kind grand mother.

On Sabbath evening Mrs. Guffin started to church with a friend, but was stricken with heart failure, and expired at the home of Mr. Haven's, never regaining consciousness, about seven-twenty o'clock, April 20, 1913. Thus she had pitched her tent for the last time under the wall of the Eternal City. For her the sun shall go down no more. She is at home.

The funeral services were held at her home Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, conducted by Rev. C. M. Yocum and burial at East Hill cemetery. The number of floral offerings and tear-dimmed eyes of those who accompanied her to her last resting place, testified beyond words her life and its worth.

What better things can be said of one than that she was loved most by those who knew her best. In the last analysis of character we base our opinions on human qualities, which determine the attitude of one toward another. Love thy neighbor as thyself, and always was she found administering her goodness to others than of ministered unto. Mrs. Guffin was of gentle spirit and generous impulse. A Christian, a devoted wife and mother, who cared not for worldly things, but found paradise on earth in her home and with her family around her.

There shall be no recounting of her good deeds here—there is no need of it. By those whose privilege it was to call her friend, the memory of her very human heart is most tenderly cherished.

If we had all unclouded sunshine, no share of earth's pains and sorrows, we would miss much of life's blessings. We could never understand the warmth of human sympathy, the unselfish loyalty of friends. We could not know the close tie of sorrows shared and battles fought side by side. We should be robbed of our most tender memories, knowing neither the loving strength of the everlasting arms nor the warm clasp of human hands.

Mrs. Guffin, though less robust in health during the past few years, bore her suffering bravely and cheerfully with unflinching courage and heroic devotion, soothed the heart of the kind husband in his recent illness, and who with the son, daughter and friends keenly feel the parting of this loved one. Those who knew her best will feel the current of their lives changed by the inspiration of her life. It is hard to realize that her voice is hushed, her eyes closed in their last sleep and her body and active mind at rest forever.

Earth never received back to her warm bosom a truer, better wife, mother, sister or friend. May the earth indeed rest lightly upon so warm a heart.

With seen vibrations from the touch divine

TO PILOT NYBERG CAR

HARRY ENDICOTT.

A well known figure in automobile racing circles is Harry Endicott, who will drive a Nyberg car in the third annual five-hundred-mile International Sweepstakes Race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway May 30. Endicott began his career in 1904 when he drove at the Harlem race track, Chicago. Since then he has participated in races all over the country and has won an enviable reputation as a spectacular performer. Last year he served as relief driver for his brother, "Bill" Endicott, in the five-hundred-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and was credited with winning fifth place. The Nybergs, which he will drive May 30, was constructed under his supervision and Endicott is at present testing and perfecting his engine in anticipation of the great speed contest that is before him.

SECURES FOREIGN CARS

CHARLES W. SEDWICK.

Probably no man in this country has been more prominently associated with automobile racing than Charles W. Sedwick, who this year will be director of events for the third annual 500 mile International Sweepstakes race, which will be staged at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, May 30. Mr. Sedwick is a true sportsman who performs his arduous duties merely for the love of the game and not for any pecuniary returns. He is the head of a large business firm in Indianapolis, and is compelled to put in several hours a day looking after the details of his own business. His recreation time is spent in promoting the welfare of the big automobile race. Mr. Sedwick is the man who went to Europe last autumn to interest foreign manufacturers in the race and it is owing to this trip that an English Sunbeam car, two French Peugeots and other foreign cars will participate in the 500 mile race May 30. Mr. Sedwick is a typical American business man.

FIRST DRIVER ENTERED

GIL ANDERSON.

Gil Anderson will have the distinction of piloting car No. 1 in the third annual five-hundred-mile International Sweepstakes Race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, May 30. His car is a Stutz and Anderson's name was the first to adorn an entry blank this season. He is a Norwegian by birth, but was brought to America when a small boy. He spent several years on the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, and on the Great Lakes as a marine engineer. He began his career as an automobile race driver in 1909 and since then has carried away his share of the honors in many big races. On May 30, 1911, Anderson drove the first Stutz car ever built, making the five hundred miles in 4 hours and 42 minutes without a single mechanical adjustment.

LOOKS AFTER THE DETAILS

THEODORE E. MYERS.

Staging a 500-mile race is no easy task, but the man who does most to make it a financial success and, therefore, an artistic success, is Theodore E. Myers, auditor of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. It is Myers' duty, among many others, to see that the visitors to the Speedway are properly cared for. Seeing that all those seats get to the people who buy them; seeing that the purchasers are properly cared for and entertained when they reach Indianapolis—that is part of the work of Mr. Myers. And there were 80,000 in attendance at the race last year. Myers is one of the most trusted employees of the Speedway corporation and enjoys the greatest confidence of Carl G. Fisher, president of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, who is really responsible for the staging of the race. Myers has handled the mass of details for both the former 500-mile races. The success of those events is a matter of automobile race record.

DREAM WARNS OF DANGER.

New Jersey Woman Finds Her Aged Parents Near Death.

In obedience to the call of her parents, whom she saw beckoning to her while she dreamed, Mrs. May Allen of 513 Kenney street, Newark, N. J., accompanied by her husband, Charles J. Allen, called at the home of the old folks—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dorley—at 288 East One Hundred and Forty-eighth street, New York.

She had dreamed that her father, aged eighty, and mother, seventy-nine, were sinking in a marsh and calling to her for help.

The Allens received no response when they rang the bell at the Dorley apartment. The janitor, Gustav Lawson, tried in vain to open the door. Policeman Hough was summoned, and the three men together broke in.

In the dining room, seated opposite one another, with their heads resting on the table, were Dorley and his wife. One of the cocks on the kitchen gas range was open. The couple were nearly dead.

KNUD RASMUSSEN

Danish Explorer Completes a Three Years' Expedition.

Copenhagen, May 6.—The expedition of Captain Knud Rasmussen, the Danish explorer, which started three years ago, has arrived at the Faroe islands. Rasmussen traversed the inland ice through Greenland from northeast to west and then back east. The results of the expedition were satisfactory.

SUFFRAGISTS RESORT TO NITROGLYCERINE

Powerful Bomb Found In London Mails.

London, May 6.—Evidently undismayed by the latest action of the government in taking drastic measures against them, the suffragettes are continuing their outrages. A nitroglycerine bomb was found among the parcels in the southwestern district postoffice which, according to the police, was powerful enough to have destroyed the entire building where some 200 men and women are employed. The outrage is generally attributed to the suffragettes.

Other militants, evading police precautions, entered the offices of the Standard, which has been attacking them, and ran amuck through several rooms. They smashed the furniture and other property and made an attack on Mr. Wilkins, the sub-editor. The police finally ejected them.

The appearance of the house of commons during the first day's debate on Mr. Dickinson's bill, which aims at the enfranchisement of more than six million women who are property owners or who have other qualifications of this kind, suggested a prolonged yawn. The members showed very lukewarm interest in the discussion, and at one time only a dozen members stayed in their seats to listen to the speakers.

The proceedings drifted along aimlessly until the adjournment. There are conflicting views as to the result of the vote. Some are convinced that the measure is doomed to defeat, while others are sure that it will get a majority.

GIVES LIFE TO RESCUE DOG

Alice Maud Meadows, British Novelist, Dies Near London.

London, May 6.—The novelist, Alice Maud Meadows, was accidentally drowned at Red Hill, a few miles from London, while attempting to rescue her dog, which had fallen into the water. Alice Maud Meadows began to write when she was fourteen years old. Her publications include "The Infatuation of Marcella," "An Innocent Sinner," "The Moth and the Flame," and many other novels.

Welsh Miners on Strike.

Cardiff, May 6.—About 50,000 Welsh miners are on strike in consequence of the refusal of certain miners to join the union. The mine owners themselves urge the non-union men and those members of the union who are behind in their dues, to pay up, but many of them failed to do so.

Both Sides Determined.

Paterson, N. J., May 6.—The strike situation continues deadlocked. The I. W. W. strikers are just as determined as ever not to go back to work until they get what they want, and the manufacturers are equally determined not to deal with the I. W. W. leaders or grant the demands.

CONTEMPT OF COURT CASE IS SUSTAINED

Labor Leaders Lose Appeal a Second Time.

Washington, May 6.—The appeals court of the District of Columbia has handed down an opinion sustaining the jail sentence imposed on Samuel Gompers for contempt of court in violating an injunction of December, 1907, of the supreme court of the District of Columbia forbidding a boycott of the products of a St. Louis stove company.

While the court sustained the jail sentence, the punishment was reduced from one year, as imposed by Justice Wright, to thirty days in jail. The court also sustained the decision of the lower court that John Mitchell, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, and Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation, also committed contempt, but vacated the jail sentence imposed on them of nine and six months respectively and punished them with a fine of $500 each. This is the second time that the court of appeals has sustained the supreme court of the District of Columbia that the labor leaders were guilty of contempt. An attempt now will be made to get the case into the United States supreme court.

Falls 200 Feet.

Akron, O., May 6.—Charles Carlson, aged twenty-four years, of Milwaukee, an aviator, was almost instantly killed when he was crushed beneath the engine of his aeroplane after falling from a height of about 200 feet.

Drys Increase Their Vote.

Albion, Ind., May 6.—The "drys" won in the local option contest here by a majority of 52. Two years ago the town voted "dry" by 23.

"BURN DINNERS, NOT BUILDINGS," SAYS GERMAN SUFFRAGETTE.

"A burned dinner is of far more value than a burned villa for convincing Englishmen that something is wrong," writes Frau Duerin, a prominent suffragist of Nuremberg, Germany, in a letter advising the British militants to adopt a "household boycott." The letter was made public by the Women's Social and Political Union of England. "The household boycott means refusal by women to perform household duties," Frau Duerin explained. "You Englishwomen should drop militancy and adopt this plan. I would even neglect the children and make the men dress them. "Let the men get their own meals, look after the children and attend to their own clothes, and in a few days they would be glad to assume only half the authority in the household and give the women half authority in politics."

ANOTHER BODY FOUND ON GETTYSBURG FIELD.

Remains of Confederate Soldier Taken From Leaf Mold.

Mute testimony to another of the many tragedies of the battle of Gettysburg was found recently in a wild mountain region eight miles west of the little Pennsylvania town when the body of a Confederate soldier and much of his equipment were discovered under almost half a foot of leaf mold, the accumulation of half a century.

The discovery was made by Clarence A. Wills while surveying a tract of land seldom traversed, save by hunters. He was first attracted to it when he stepped on the end of the barrel of the old musket. Digging away the leaves, he found the hammer and lock and the trademarks showing the English made gun which was much used in the Confederate army. A belt buckle, part of a canteen, several dozen Confederate minie balls and other equipment were found upon further search, and finally a shoe was found.

All were close together between two high rocks and would possibly never have been discovered had not the surveyor's line chanced to run over the spot. All the wooden and cloth portions had long since decayed, and the body of the man to whom they belonged had long since disintegrated.

A flattened bullet bore testimony to the manner in which he met his death. The two large rocks at which the find was made are on an eminence which commands a view for twenty miles or more and overlooks the route of Lee's retreat after the battle. A large rear guard followed the Confederate army and is known to have been scattered over the territory where this discovery was made. Kilpatrick's Union cavalry pursued over this same ground, and the theory of the local historians is that the Confederate skirmisher was standing on one of the rocks when struck by a Union bullet, fell between the two and either died immediately or was in such a weakened condition that he was unable to climb out. There have been numerous discoveries of the bodies of buried soldiers on the Gettysburg field, but this was the first instance for many years where evidence of a body lying dead on top of the ground has been reported.

RHEUMATISM PAINS GO SWOLLEN JOINTS VANISH

RHEUMA Acts on Kidneys, Liver and Blood the First Day—and Out Goes Uric Acid Poison.

Anybody can afford to pay 50 cents to get rid of terrible Rheumatism, Sciatica or Gout, and that's all RHEUMA costs at Johnson's Drug Store and they say if it doesn't do all that is claimed for it, money back.

It's wonderful how speedily this simple remedy takes hold and how the sore muscles limber up and the swollen joints come down to normal. Make no mistake—RHEUMA costs but little, but it's the best remedy you can find to drive Rheumatic poison from the system and bring back health to misery-racked bodies.

"I had Rheumatism for a long while, and tried many medicines, but was not cured until I used RHEUMA. I cannot praise RHEUMA too highly. My advice to those suffering from Rheumatism is to use this great remedy, as I believe it will effect a permanent cure in any case."—C. B. Lanham, Sattes, W. Va., April 27, 1912.

Some Cannon Balls.

The Saturday Evening Post last week printed an extended article written by Joseph G. Cannon on the political situation and outlook which will be found of surpassing interest. It is entitled "Following After Strange Gods." There has been very strong opposition to Mr. Cannon in the past, and much prejudice as well, but all who take time to read his masterful presentation of the plain truth and common sense of the situation, regardless of their former impressions of him, will be deeply interested in what he says. Every voter should read this article. Its great length precludes its publication in full here. Following are the concluding paragraphs:

"Some of my former associates in the Republican party, who have come to the conclusion they are the John the Baptists for a political regeneration, are anxious to reorganize the Republican party. They claim that the old party has strayed after false gods and that they are the only true followers of Lincoln. I have heard this claim presented by others in the past who made no pretensions of relationship—even the remotest—to the Republican party. For instance, the senior senator from South Carolina, who would resent the suggestion that he is anything but an old-fashioned Democrat, traveled over my state several years ago, campaigning for William J. Bryan, and carried with him a volume of Lincoln's speeches from which he quoted to show that Bryan was a better follower of Lincoln than was Theodore Roosevelt.

"The Republican party may need some reformation—not reorganization; but that work will not be left to any self-constituted leadership. It is said that Judas claimed to be one of the earliest disciples of the Master and that Saul of Tarsus was not converted until he was blinded by a great light. Does any one now present the whole history of Judas and his thirty pieces of reform silver as evidence that he did more than Paul to establish the Christian religion? The Republican party is today constituted—just as it was before the election—of the millions of men who believe in protection to American production; and the Democratic party in congress is going to sound the note which will show that the Republican party does not need any other organization than the note of alarm that will come from the house early this summer.

"Both political parties have had great leaders and these leaders have grown up in the service. They have not been selected by any small body of men to be clothed with the people's approval. We had one sad illustration of the failure of that kind of leadership when a few public-spirited men who had opportunity to make themselves heard, selected an old-time Republican to lead the liberal hosts and the Democratic phalanx to the White House. It was one of the saddest tragedies in our political history. There were brilliant and able men in the movement of 1872, and they controlled the greatest organs of publicity in the country. They were able to make a great noise; but when the ballots were counted it was the silent deep and not the shallows that spoke.

"Grant was re-elected with the most overwhelming majority ever given to that time to a president, and Horace Greeley died of a broken heart a few days after the election. But for the tragedy which followed, that effort of Carl Schurz, Murat Halstead, Horace White, Whitelaw Reid and Henry Watterson would have been one of the greatest jokes of American politics. As it was, it showed how a few men in control of the organs of publicity can fool a great political party by adopting the same methods those do who sell breakfast foods and patent medicines—by advertising their wares."

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

NO BASIS FOR IT.

(Muncie Press.)

"Republicans are only deceiving themselves" says the Lafayette Journal, "when they pretend that the Payne-Aldrich law, a product of politics, did not contribute largely to the defeat of the Republican party."

The Press makes no such pretensions, but the mere fact that a law can be so misrepresented and so misunderstood that it brings defeat to the party enacting it, is not proof that the measure was essentially wrong. The McKinley law defeated the Republican party in 1891 and in 1893, and there were a great many republicans who assumed that when McKinleyism was assailed it was necessarily wrong. But William McKinley was not one of these faint hearted folk.

It is easy indeed to assent to the claim that the Payne-Aldrich law was "infamous," just as it was easy twenty years ago to assent to the same charge against the McKinley law. The party in power is learning, however, that the framing of a tariff law that will satisfy everybody is not so easy as it looks to the critics of the tariff laws enacted by Republican congresses during the past quarter of a century. And many Republicans will cease to be apologetic for the Republican record on the tariff question, possibly, when they have had a chance to inspect the law that succeeds upon its repeal.

The assumption that the existing tariff law was based, not upon knowledge and investigation, but upon mere political considerations, has been very common among the critics of the measure, but it does not happen to be well founded. The testimony taken in the hearings before the Ways and Means committee of the house fills several volumes. Mr. Payne and Mr. Aldrich, moreover, have given a lifetime study to the tariff question, and the charge that Mr. Aldrich was prompted in his attitude only by a desire to serve the special interests, is a mere piece of demagogic clap trap.

The Payne-Aldrich law provided for a tariff commission, the first tariff law since the Morrill act that made such a provision. One may as intelligently assume that this provision was responsible for republican defeat as to place the responsibility upon any other single feature of the bill.

No criticism of a tariff measure by generalization is intelligent criticism. A tariff law is a matter of schedules. The country has been surfeited with talk about the existing tariff law being dictated by special, selfish interests, but these indictments have been sadly lacking in specifications. When criticisms are reduced to detail they can be met. And when a party in power is up to the job of making changes in detail the task is a lot harder than that of parroting phrases directed against a law as a whole.

THE EASIEST WAY

The easiest way to tell a ringer is to watch him work; the easiest way to tell a four-flusher is to try him out; the easiest way to tell a man who talks through his hat is to let him talk himself to death.

Lots of men can put up a front; few of them can keep it up.

A plated fork looks fine when it is new, but use it and the base metal will soon show through.

Lots of glass diamonds look fine at first glance, but familiarity will dim the lustré in your eye.

If you want to prove a thing, try it. If it stands the test, hang on to it. When you get a good thing, keep it. Shoes come in the same class, lots of leathers look great to the naked eye.

Try a microscope. Lots of them make a fine impression at first.

But how will they stand the wear? You are safe if you buy them of Cox, the shoe man. 4516

TAXES WILL FALL SHORT

Amount Not Known Until Books Are Closed.

The force in the county treasurer's office today was busy closing up the books after the spring taxpaying season. The period for paying the first instalment closed yesterday with the usual last-day rush. Today the clerks were busy opening the mail and giving the taxpayers who had used the mails credit. All mail received or postmarked yesterday will not go in the delinquents' list. There is little doubt but that the taxes will fall short of the amount collected during the same period last year, but the exact sum will not be known until the books are closed.

TO GET COUNTY AGENT.

Holmes on Domestic Economy.

The laughable and the pathetic are sometimes strangely mingled in little exhibitions of domestic economy—a plate of apples, for instance, with the defective parts cut out for the children; a small basket of homemade gingerbread, with one or two pieces of poundcake carefully disposed on the surface so as to appear to the best advantage—"Autocrat of the Breakfast Table."

STOLEN WATCH FINDS WAY BACK

Greenfield Admirer of Milroy Girl Had Her Picture in Case—Therein Lies the Tale.

WAS TAKEN LAST SEPTEMBER

While Bernard Knight, son of Sam Knight of this city, was on his way to call on his lady friend at Milroy last September, he stopped off at the hotel in Greensburg, says the Greenfield Reporter. While at the hotel he laid his watch down on a table in his room and stepped out for a few minutes and when he returned the watch was gone. There being no clue by which to trace the stolen property at that time, Mr. Knight thought he was a loser.

Many months passed by when a man, a resident of Greensburg, took a watch out of his pocket and opened it. A stranger standing near saw the young lady's picture which had been placed just inside the case and at once recognized the features of Mr. Knight's friend, as he knew the girl well. He at once wrote the girl at Milroy a letter and the officers were notified. The watch was recovered and the next time Mr. Knight called to see his lady friend he was presented with the watch.

THIEF HAD CASE OF "COLD FEET"

Returns Rig to William York of Near Clarksburg When he Learns Sheriff is Hot on Trail.

WILD GOOSE CHASE TO MILROY

William York, who works on a farm near Clarksburg, Sunday encountered a thief with "cold feet" else he would not probably have a horse and buggy today. He drove to Greensburg Sunday afternoon and left the outfit at a hitch rack in the center of the town. When he returned in the evening to get the rig and go home, it was gone. He was told that a man had been seen to drive away in his buggy. The Decatur county sheriff was notified and started on the trail.

He received word from Milroy stating that a man, who was believed to be the one sought, had passed through that place. The sheriff hastened to Milroy, there to be halted by a telephone message stating that the horse and buggy had been returned to Mr. York. The thief had learned that the sheriff was in pursuit of him, and made a change in his route and returned the rig to its owner.

HAS RELATIVES HERE.

John Henry Rieman, age eighty-five years, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. E. Lewis, in Connersville, was the grandfather of Mrs. Charles O. Warfel of this city. He had been in poor health for many weeks and no hope had been held out for his recovery. He was born near Norden, Germany, in 1828, and came to America in 1866. The funeral was held this afternoon, with the Rev. W. H. Clark officiating.

CHIEF DANGER NCW REMOVED

Peace of Europe No Longer Threatened.

KING NICHOLAS GIVES UP

Supported by a Small Majority of the Crown Council and Against Wishes of His Cabinet, Old Ruler of Montenegro Decided to Abide by the Edict of the Powers and Retire From the Hard-Earned Base at Scutari.

London, May 6.—The announcement of King Nicholas that the Montenegrins would comply with the request of the powers and retire from Scutari has afforded general relief. The chief danger to the peace of Europe is now regarded as having been removed, although the questions of the Aegean islands and Albania have not yet been solved.

Out of the remarkable conflict of reports on Sunday as to what happened at Cetinje, there emerges the main fact that King Nicholas, supported by a small majority of the crown council and against the wishes of the cabinet, decided to abide by the decision of the powers.

When Montenegro took possession of Scutari on April 23, after a six months' siege which cost the lives of thousands of Montenegrins and Turks, King Nicholas declared that he would hold the city until the last drop of Montenegrin blood had been spilt.

As the European powers had decided previously that Scutari was to form part of the future autonomous state of Albania a crisis was brought about and the powers immediately brought strong pressure to bear to force him and his troops to evacuate the place.

In the meanwhile Austria took energetic steps to enforce the powers' decision and concentrated large bodies of troops in Bosnia, Herzegovina and Dalmatia. The powers in the interim instituted a blockade of the Montenegrin coast. All these demonstrations, however, seemed not to affect the determination of the king.

Some of the Montenegrin troops were withdrawn from Scutari in order, it was said, to resist a possible Austrian advance.

Then word came that Austria and Italy had entered into an agreement to solve the Albanian problem by a military expedition, and it was known that the Austrian army was preparing to march forward.

The attitude of Russia under these circumstances was a matter of great concern to Europe, and when she joined in the pressure being exercised on Montenegro great relief was felt, as it had been thought she would resist any attempt by Austria to order her army southward.

The Montenegrin cabinet has resigned. The resignation of a premier always carries with it the resignations of the other ministers. During all the veiled threatenings of the powers the Cetinje cabinet refused to recommend the evacuation of Scutari and when King Nicholas and the war council decided to give up the city, the cabinet ministers felt that there was nothing for them to do but resign.

LIABILITY LAW UPHELD

Supreme Court Makes Important Decision Affecting Indiana.

Washington, May 6.—The supreme court of the United States has upheld the constitutionality of the Indiana employers liability law. In the suit of Haynes L. Hackett against the Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville Railway company, Hackett, a yard switchman at Monon, Ind., will recover $30,000 for the loss of both legs through the negligence of his immediate superior, the yard foreman.

The decision is important not only because it dissolves all doubt as to the constitutionality of the Indiana act, but because it shows that the highest court has small regard for technicalities which are often a large factor in lawsuits in lower courts. The act in question has been in force since March 4, 1893, and fixes liability of railroads and other corporations, except municipal, for personal injuries of employees in specified cases.

The company contended it ought not to pay the award because the Indiana law makes no distinction between employees in hazardous and nonhazardous positions. The supreme court demolished this objection as untenable. The company also pleaded that the Indiana act had been superseded by the federal employers' liability act, but the supreme court points out that the latter act was declared void and could not supersede anything. The opinion was unanimous.

ON HIS DEATH BED CONFESSES MURDERS

Tennesseean Tells of Slaying Four Persons.

Newport, Tenn., May 6.—After confessing that at different times in his life he had murdered two men and two women, William Fine, aged fifty, is dead here.

On his deathbed he confessed that about twenty years ago he poured kerosene oil on a woman who was sleeping and then set her clothing afire, with the result that she was burned to death. A coroner's jury declared at the time that the woman had come to death by falling asleep too near the fire.

A few years later Fine, according to his own statement, lured a stranger who was in that section to his death, but he did not explain any of the details. The victim of his third crime was his aunt, Peggy Fine, who was living with him. She fell sick and he starved her to death, refusing to give her either medicine or food.

Ten years ago he and a man named Bradshaw quarreled while doing farm work and Fine drew his knife and stabbed Bradshaw in the stomach. For this he was arrested, but he managed to prove a case of self-defense and escaped punishment after two trials.

Resignation of Dr. Patton.

Price of Coal High Enough, They Say.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

Has Been Asked to Sit Down on the Proposal to Make a General Increase in the Price of Coal, the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce Presenting Figures to Show That No Such Boost Is Warranted.

Indianapolis, May 6.—This morning the executive committee of the chamber of commerce appeared before the public service commission and filed a protest against the proposed increase in rates on coal. The committee had compiled data to show that such an increase in rates is not warranted. It was announced recently that there will be a general increase in the price of coal this month.

The public service commission, in organizing for the work before it, has made two more appointments. Harry O. Garman, associate professor of the department of civil engineering at Purdue university, was appointed chief of the engineering staff, and Miller C. Kent of Marion was named statistical clerk. The former will receive a salary of $3,600 a year and the latter's salary will be $1,500. Mr. Garman was consulting engineer to the railway commission before it was supplanted by the public service commission. Under his new appointment, however, he will give all of his time to the state's work.

Mr. Kent, who is a graduate of Indiana university, is a young lawyer at Marion. He has devoted considerable time to a study of the subject of public utilities, and he is considered by the commission members a valuable addition to their staff of employees. He held a clerical position during the last two sessions of the general assembly.

IT BROUGHT A HOT REPLY

Eugene Debs Takes Up Cudgels For Kern Against Hatfield.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 6.—The attack of Governor Hatfield of West Virginia on Senator John W. Kern in connection with the investigation of mine conditions in that state, brought a hot reply from Eugene V. Debs of this city. Governor Hatfield was quoted as saying: "In reply to the senator's statement relative to peonage, I wish to say that his allegation is a fabrication out of whole cloth."

The Socialist leader sent a telegram to Senator Kern saying: "The whole working class will back you in calling Hatfield's bluff. Give us the chance and we will prove that peonage exists and that newspaper correspondents and labor organizers without number have been assaulted and driven out of West Virginia. Turn on the light."

Probability of Foul Play.

South Bend, Ind., May 6.—An unidentified man either shot himself or was murdered in the Vandalla yards here. A revolver was found beside the body, but the police admit this may have been placed there in an effort to deceive them. The victim was about thirty-five years old, weighed 165 pounds, and was five feet six inches tall. He had sandy hair and mustache.

PARIS ON GUARD AGAINST "REDS"

Every Precaution Taken to Protect Visiting King.

DON'T WANT SECOND ATTACK

With Memory of Anarchist Assault Upon King Alfonso During His Visit There in 1905, French Authorities Will Hedge Paris About With Every Possible Safeguard During Spanish Ruler's Visit There This Week.

Paris, May 6.—To protect King Alfonso from outrages by anarchists during his visit to this city, which will begin tomorrow morning, great precautions have been taken. The authorities are determined that there shall be no repetition of the attempted attack on him in this city in 1905. Every railroad station from the frontier to Paris will be occupied by the military. Troops will also be stationed at every tunnel and bridge. Employees of the railroad company will be stationed 500 yards apart all the way from the frontier to Paris.

King Alfonso, Premier Romanones and his suite of high military officers will arrive at the frontier at 10 o'clock tonight. From that place he will travel in the presidential special train and will arrive at 10:20 tomorrow morning at the Bois de Boulogne station, where President Poincare and the government leaders will receive the Spanish king and his party.

On leaving the railroad station President Poincare will conduct Alfonso to the foreign office, where apartments have been prepared for him. All the troops guarding the lines will then be reviewed on the Esplanade des Invalides, after which the king will take luncheon with the president. He will visit the military school in the afternoon, after which he will receive the ambassadors. King Alfonso desires his visit to be chiefly of military interest, and on Thursday will be escorted to Fontainebleau to witness cavalry maneuvers and artillery practice.

There will be a grand military tournament in the afternoon and the party will return to Paris at 5:20. All the streets will be barred for half an hour before the procession passes.

M. Pichon will give a dinner to the visitors at the foreign office in the evening. The municipality will receive King Alfonso Friday at the Petit Palais. After this he will visit the aviation grounds at St. Cyr. A special train will await him at the station near by, and he will go direct to Bordeaux and Madrid without returning to Paris.

REVOLUTION IS BREWING

Haytian Exiles Are Preparing to Revive Old Trouble.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 6.—The colony of Haytian exiles and the members of the old Simon party, who are in close touch with the happenings at Port Au Prince, are making preparations to charter a steamer and return home on receipt of news favorable to the cause. The attempted disorders in Hayti which were promptly squelched by General Michel Oreste, the new president, aroused hope of a chance for another revolution. Dispatches from St. Thomas, D. W. L., say the German warship Bremen has left for Port Au Prince because of the unsettled political conditions.

Japanese Government Calm.

Tokio, May 6.—Despite the adverse turn of events in California in regard to the alien land law, the government is disposed to place complete confidence in the efforts of the authorities at Washington to bring about an amicable solution of the question.

L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter

(Ball Bearing—Long Wearing)

In buying a typewriter you want a satisfactory answer to three questions:

*What will it do for me?
How well will it do it?
How long will it do it?*

By answering these queries with the needs of the typewriter owner and user in mind, the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter Company has attained the front rank in the typewriter field.

Some people think that a typewriter is a typewriter and that is all there is to it. Machines may look alike but there is a lot of difference in efficiency.

The new Model Five is built not only for straight correspondence but for tabulating, billing and in fact for every service needed in the average business.

Its ball bearings at all points where friction develops through action, permit close adjustment and insure correct and accurate typewriting.

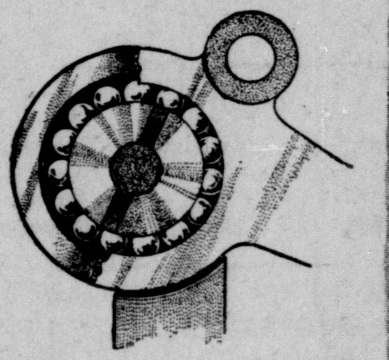

*We would like the opportunity to tell you more about it.

PHILADELPHIA'S MAYOR GOING BACK TO SCHOOL.

He and Members of His Cabinet to Study Political Economy.

Rudolph Blankenburg, the reform mayor of Philadelphia, and the members of his cabinet have decided to go back to school to take a course in political economy, so that they may be more competent to administer the affairs of the city.

The mayor and at least two members of his cabinet have arranged to attend a course of lectures at the University of Wisconsin. The course, which is short and theoretical, is designed to solve the problems that confront modern municipalities. When the mayor and his directors return they expect to be able to ride roughshod over some of the municipal quagmires which have all but engulfed them to date.

The student expedition is scheduled to leave Philadelphia on May 20, arriving at the University of Wisconsin the afternoon of May 21. Following a reception that night tendered to the visitors by Governor McGovern of Wisconsin, the mayor, his directors and the members of the City club will forget for the time being that they are executives and business men from the third largest city on this side of the Atlantic and for three days will live the lives of college students.

The special lecture program arranged to assist Mayor Blankenburg and his directors to run Philadelphia is a very comprehensive one. It has been arranged by the University of Wisconsin faculty and takes in every phase of municipal existence, even telling what shall be done with the waste or unoccupied lands in a city, to say nothing of the broad subject of taxation.

BIG RENO DIVORCE CROWD.

More Than 700 In Throng, Which Grows Larger Daily.

Never has Reno, Nev., witnessed such a crowd of women and men seeking divorce, particularly the former, in its hotels, apartment houses and cottages, walking its streets and flocking to its places of entertainment, cafes and resorts.

Fully 700 of such temporary residents are there for no other purpose than asking for a legal separation from their husbands or wives. They are spending an enforced seven to nine months in any manner which will most pleasantly "kill time" until they are maritally freed.

Unquestionably the final rush for a Nevada decree is in full swing. The three leading hotels, which have been housing many of these so called residents, are literally swamped. Every train from the east adds to the throng, who manage to find quarters somewhere.

Plan Memorial to Whittier. A memorial to John Greenleaf Whittier, the poet, is to be erected in Washington at a cost of about $30,000. The money is being raised by subscription, and the Society of Friends is particularly interested. Paul Keck, a New York sculptor, is working on a design for the memorial.

measures, and in counties of smaller population they "may" be appointed. The same section also says that the commissioners "shall" provide suitable and standard equipment for conducting such tests.

Police powers are by the new law reposed in all inspectors of weights and measures, and they have the right to exercise them in the discharge of duty.

Anyone convicted of having in his possession any scale, measure or measuring device not standard, shall upon conviction be fined in any sum not less than $10, to which a jail sentence may be added.

"All commodities shall be sold by standard weight or measure, provided, however, that this section shall not apply to commodities which are usually and customarily sold by numerical count, or in gross, or are sold in packages prepared and put up for sale and so marked as to indicate the contents."

In other words, this section virtually means that any container put up in the shape and size as to impress the consumer, shall contain not less than the amount indicated, whether the container contains berries or onion sets, potatoes and baskets of coal supposed to contain and sold for a bushel. Full weight shall also be given.

school in 1895. He then attended Valparaiso University. He was principal of the high school at Lagro, 1897-1901, and held a like position at Auburn, Ind., 1901-1905. Receiving the degree of A. B. from Indiana University last June, Mr. Tyner continued his studies in the University of Michigan last summer.

Miss Ludlow was re-elected history teacher for another year, and it is with regret that her friends will hear that she has decided to retire for the present. She has been a member of the high school faculty for three years, and during that time she has won the universal respect of the pupils by the ease and justice with which she disciplines.

The school authorities have been pleased with her kindly spirit in the school room and are sorry to lose her. She has a pedagogical insight and thoroughness which made her invaluable as a teacher. Miss Ludlow has been principal of the high schools at Carthage, Knightstown and East Connersville. She is a sister of Louis Ludlow, the Washington correspondent of the Indianapolis Star.

Ben Conway is seriously ill with uraemic poisoning.

CIGARETTE LAW IS VERY SEVERE

Provides For a Fine Not to Exceed $100 and a Jail Sentence of Three Months.

IN EFFECT HERE TOMORROW

The two days of grace given to minors who are addicted to the cigarette habit by Chief McAllister, expires tonight and tomorrow the police will start enforcing the law. The minors have had two days' warning and no exceptions will be made by the police in seeing that the law is enforced.

For the benefit of those who do not know the law the police desire that they take notice. The law states that it shall be unlawful for any person under the full age of twenty-one years, by himself or through any other person or by any means directly or indirectly to buy, receive or accept for his own use or the use of any other person whatsoever, or to keep or own or to have in his possession, or to sell either as principal or agent or to use any cigarette, cigarette paper, cigarette wrapper, or any paper or wrapper containing morphine, nicotine, oil of hemp, or any deleterious or poisonous ingredient or substance, or intended, suited, made or prepared for the purpose of being filled with tobacco for smoking, or any substitute for such cigarette paper, cigarette wrapper or other such paper.

The law also makes it unlawful to misrepresent the age in order to purchase cigarettes or papers or to procure them for sale. The act provides that a person found guilty of any of the provisions shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $100, or to be imprisoned in the county jail for a period not exceeding three months. The fine and jail sentence may both be given.

VARNER IS STILL IN JAIL AT NEWCASTLE

Charlottesville Man Who Assaulted Russell Hayes of Knightstown Can't Raise $500 Fine.

PARDON MAY BE REQUESTED

A. H. Varner, the Knightstown coal and ice dealer who was fined $500 and costs in the Henry circuit court ten days ago for assault and battery on Russell Hayes, also of Knightstown, is still a prisoner in the Henry county jail, says the Newcastle Star. Varner thus far has been unable to raise the money to raise the money to pay the fine and costs assessed against him. Should he not pay and other circumstances do not intervene he will have to remain more than a year and a half in the custody of the sheriff.

It is understood that at Knightstown a plan is being formulated to petition Samuel Ralston to pardon Varner after he has served about half of the time required to pay the fine. In Wayne township the sentiment seems to be that the punishment inflicted on the guilty man was too great.

Dave Jackson, the former Knightstown saloon keeper, who was caught in a blind tiger raid at his home, is also still in jail. He has been unable to furnish the $1,000 bond required to secure his release.

J. H. RISK DEAD.

The funeral of J. H. Risk, age seventy years, who died at his home, southwest of Spiceland in Rush county last Saturday, was held at the residence yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, with Miss Friend, pastor of the Newcastle Friends church, officiating. Burial was made in Glen Cove cemetery. Mr. Risk was born in Virginia and was forced into the Confederate army. He escaped in 1864 and came to Knightstown where he had relatives. Several children survive. Paralysis caused his death.
